

Christopher L. Johnson serves as Managing Partner directing all aspects of The Hatchett Firm (THF), which specializes in Personal Injury, Insurance Litigation, Contract Negotiations, Crisis Management, and Real Estate. In this capacity, he drives operational excellence that contributes to the firm's growth, competitiveness, and performance regionally and nationally.

Johnson brings a wealth of knowledge to THF, having worked for Senator John McCain in Washington D.C. and Obama for America across the country. He also has extensive experience in diverse areas of law, policy, and business, which includes but is not limited to insurance, corporate operation matters (including mergers and acquisitions), healthcare, intellectual property, and regulatory compliance. He also has formidable experience in complex tort litigation, with an impeccable trial practice record. Prior to joining THF, Johnson practiced at law firms where he focused on insurance defense, securities, medical malpractice, workers compensation, franchise, employment, and international licensing.

Johnson also worked at The Coca-Cola Company Headquarters in Atlanta, where he engaged in executive counsel work focused on international licensing, intellectual property, corporate compliance, and regulatory law, and at Time Warner in New York where he gained experience as a Legal Secretary to the Board of Directors, and performed work in securities and copyright fair use. Johnson also earned a clerkship with the Honorable Clarence Cooper in the Federal District Court, Northern District of Georgia.

Johnson was born and raised in Atlanta, graduating from Woodward Academy, studied Political Science at The University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, studied ancient architecture at John Cabot University in Rome, Italy, and came back home to earn a Juris Doctorate from Emory University School of Law. In his free time, Johnson enjoys traveling, exploring the Atlanta Beltline, or cheering for the Wolverines, Hawks, Braves, and Tottenham Hotspur FC.
